

Debbie Labrum – Teacher Bio

I have been teaching at Freedom Academy for four years now, and absolutely love it here. Before coming to Freedom Academy, I taught high school art in Washington state. I received my Bachelors degree in secondary education with an endorsement in K-12 art at BYU in 1994. I recently completed my Masters Degree in art education at BYU, and have a level 2 Utah teaching license.

Some of my hobbies are drawing, painting, and anything to do with art and art education. I also like camping and hiking with my family and friends, and being outdoors.

It's hard to say what my favorite food is because I like so many different kinds. I like ethnic foods such as Indian, Chinese, Mexican, Italian, and anything with flavor. My favorite ice cream is vanilla, and my favorite dessert is chocolate cake.

Some of my goals for my students are to expand their knowledge and understanding in art education, make fun and meaningful art projects, and to learn about the artists, art movements, and concepts behind each.
